

THE ERIE TRAIN BOY

Horatio Alger, Jr. (1832-1899) was a 19th-century American author who wrote approximately 135 novels. Many of his works have been described as rags to riches stories, illustrating how down-and-out boys might be able to achieve the American Dream of wealth and success through hard work, courage, determination, and concern for others. He is noted as a significant figure in the history of American cultural and social ideals, even though his novels are rarely read these days. After attending Harvard...

Reader's Opinions

OLD TIME (PRE-1920) CATEGORYI must admit that I have never really read a story quite like this one. The style is so different from anything that I have read before in young adult literature. The story is about a young 17 year old named Fred Fenton who works on a train selling food, magazines, and books. Despite his youth acts as the...
