

THE PRIZE OF ALL THE OCEANS

Anson's voyage of 1740-44 holds a unique and terrible place in British naval history. The misadventures of this first attempt by Royal Navy ships to sail round the world make a dramatic story of hardship, disaster, mutiny and heroism. Only one of Anson's squadron, the flagship Centurion, completed its mission. The other vessels were wrecked, scuttled or forced back in...

Reader's Opinions

Clearly written informative history of Anson's 1740s voyage. An appalling piece of British naval history, although financially rewarding for the survivors. Alas, back in England, many of the sailors lost their lives soon after the loot was distributed. The book is Dewey cataloged 910.4 - Voyages Around the World, putting it in one of...
