

ДЪЛГИЯТ, МРАЧЕН СЛЕДОБЕДЕН ЧАЙ НА ДУШАТА

When a passenger check-in desk at London's Heathrow Airport disappears in a ball of orange flame, the explosion is deemed an act of God. But which god, wonders holistic detective Dirk Gently? What god would be hanging around Heathrow trying to catch the 3:37 to Oslo? And what has this to do with Dirk's latest—and late—client, found only this morning with his head...

Peek Inside the Book

There were three of them, three police cars left askew across the road in a way that transcended mere parking. It sent out a massive signal to the world saying that the law was here now taking charge of things, and that anyone who just had normal, good and cheerful business to conduct in Lupton Road could just fuck off. Douglas Adams, The Long Dark Tea-Time of the...
