

THE HOUSE BY THE LAKE

Anna is content with her well-ordered life in San Francisco. But her world is turned upside down when her beloved grandfather, Max, reveals a startling secret: Anna is part of an aristocratic family who lost everything during World War II. What's more, Max was forced to leave behind a precious item over seventy years ago in their estate in old Prussia. It's now his ardent wish that Anna retrieve it. Anna burns with questions as she...

Reader's Opinions

more like a 3.5 I enjoyed reading the two different story lines. At times it was very interesting and i couldnt put it down. Other times i felt alittle bored. All in all it was a good book. Just wish i would have cared more about the characters. Felt like there could have been more to the story.

This book was made up of two different stories. One of the stories took place between 1934 and 1940 from the perspective of a French woman, and the second story took place in 2010 from the perspective of an American descendant of...
